

STUD OPEN DAY – WEDNESDAY, 30th April 2008

West Kington Stud opens its doors for its second Open Day on Wednesday, 30th April 2008. On show will be the Stud's four resident stallions for 2008, as well as some of our home-bred youngstock. Eventing stallions Windsor Heights, Never Say No and Up with the Lark will be paraded under saddle and Kyra Kryklund 's dressage stallion Master will be paraded in-hand.

People from all walks of life, including mare and stallion owners and equine vets, will be welcome to visit the Stud in the heart of the Wiltshire countryside and see what the Stud and Stallion Centre have to offer.

Why not join us, as the day coincides with the first Vets Inspection at Badminton Horse Trials – we are less than five miles from Badminton. This provides a great opportunity for breeders from afar to visit the Stud before going to the great event.

Features of the day will include:

Stallion parades – one in the morning and again in the afternoon

Semen collection, processing and freezing demonstrations by Martin Boyle MRCVS and Chris Shepherd MRCVS, both world-renowned specialists in frozen semen processing and insemination techniques.

Catering and light refreshments will be offered, including our own Welsh Black Beefburgers.

Contact West Kington Stud to register interest and receive free tickets to the Open Day and Programme.
